more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In several instances the land upon which the rights applied for are situated, are not described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, but are described by the name of the land, or the name of the owner, or the name of the lease at the time of the application.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise.
A copy of the regulations may be obtained on request at the rate of five cents per copy.

Every Lessee of coal mining rights who is not a bona fide settler, shall furnish the Agent of the District with a cash deposit of $1000 to be held in trust for the benefit of the land.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be required to furnish water, available surface rights, or be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

FINE HIGHWAY THROUGH PASS

GREAT CONTINENTAL ROAD TO THATHEUSE CROWN NEAR DISTRICT

IS STARTED BY B. C.

British Columbia Now Actively At Work and will Finish Road to Alberta Line Next Year—Will Force Hand of Alberta Government.

One continuous line of excellent roadway from Vancouver, through East Kootenay and over the Rockies by the Crow's Nest Pass, will be an actual fact before long, says the Victoria Post. Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, who returned from an extensive tour of the interior by way of Seattle this morning, announced that he was confident, after investigation, and as a result of the reports he has received from survey parties that have been at work for some months, that the project, seemingly colossal, can be easily accomplished. Already he has taken the initial steps towards the end, and he expects that the government would be able to declare the Pacific coast in direct communication with the middle west by wagon road in the not distant future.

"When I inspected closely the map of British Columbia some six months ago, with this idea in mind," the minister said, "conversing with a representative of the Post, 'it struck me that I was entertaining an impracticable scheme. The network of roads spreading throughout the provincial districts from the lower mainland up through the interior, it appeared to me could be connected hooked up, as it were, so that there would be formed one straight, and altogether admirable route, from the coast to the eastern borders over into the prairies. And so I laid my plans to find out, and I have proved that it can be done, at a great expense, and, of course, with incalculable resulting benefit to settlers and the public at large."

Next year, Hon. Mr. Taylor says, the first link in this great transcontinental road—for it will be transcontinental inasmuch as it is possible to travel once Alberta is reached, to the utmost extremity of Nova Scotia—will be finished. The part he referred to was that from the town of Creston, set on the Kootenay lake, in the centre of a section of East Kootenay, that bears an international reputation for the excellency of the fruit it produces, over the mountains into the adjoining province.
Workmen, he said, were engaged in connecting up the different roads, and they would be through some time in 1910 without doubt. Meanwhile the problem of mining through the necessary connections in the lower country would be under consideration, and he was confident, satisfactorily solved.

This great work by the B. C. government will without a doubt result in the ultimate construction of a like road from Creston West through the Alberta portion of the Pass. The Alberta government has made no move toward matching the enterprise of the British Columbia government as yet but with the B.C. end of the road finished next year the liberal government of Alberta will, it seems hardly open to doubt, be shamed into meeting the splendid action of the conservative government of British Columbia with the result that ultimately the Alberta portion of the road will be built and it will then be possible to travel across Canada from coast to ocean by other than railway transportation.

Something like two years ago The Frank Paper suggested the building of just such a road, advancing the idea that it would eventually prove a very popular automobile touring route. At that time the suggestion was laughed at by certain people as a visionary dream of the far distant future if it ever materialized at all.
Singular it is not what changes are

NOW FOR THE FINAL GAME.

The final game of football in the series for the Nat's cup is to be played at Michel next Saturday.
The contesting teams will be Frank and Coleman and the prospects are that it will be the biggest football event of the year. It will also be the last.

Arrangements are being made for a special train to run from Frank and if it is granted there will be a great mob of rooters from the two towns to cheer their favorites to victory.

The smoker given at Miners Union Hall, Saturday evening to assist the Frank club in raising funds, was a distinct success. The attendance was good and the program of great entertainment.

For the same purpose a dance was given at School, all last evening which also proved successful and enjoyable. Between the two the team will pull out on the season very nicely.

A GREAT MARATHON RACE

Perhaps no other athletic event that has taken place in the Pass will be so important as the one which will take place on the 29th of October in Coleman. Runners from all parts of Southern Alberta are training hard for this event.

We have it on good authority that there will be good men from Pincher Creek, Lethbridge, Macleod, Cowley and Lundbreck, as well as the well-known runners of The Pass.

Among the Coleman runners will be found the names of McVickers, Allingham (the well-known 10 miles) Robertson, Robinson, Rogers, Laroque, and Miller of Blairmore.

It is expected that J. Herrold, M.
P., will be starter; H. E. Lyon, assistant starter; O. E. S. Whiteside, judge; Mark Drummond, ass. judge; official timekeepers, J. O. S. Barrett and Archie McLeod; T. B. Brandon manager.

The handsome silver cups and medals will be on view in Alex.
Cameron's Jewellery store next week.

The race will be run in Elmerfeld Park at Coleman.

BIGGEST CROP KNOWN.

Hon. W. T. Flinlay, minister of agriculture, has returned from a week spent in touring the agricultural fairs in the provinces and sums up his observations of this year's harvest by saying that it is the "biggest and earliest that the province has ever known," says the Edmonton Bulletin.

"The spring was late," said Mr.
Flinlay to the Bulletin, "but as soon as it opened up there was a glorious spell of good weather and the grain did not have a day's set back from the time it sprouted until it was harvested. When the ripening stage approached the grain ripened quickly but there was sufficient moisture in the soil, due to the opportune rains, to have everything ripen well. In this respect Alberta and Saskatchewan was seen to have been particularly favored."

TENDERS WANTED.

Sealed Tenders will be accepted for a large Brick Building for the F.O. Eagles, at Coleman. Plans and specifications may be seen at the undersigned house. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

NORTHCLIFFES OF THE PASS.

FOOTHILLS PRINTING AND NEWS COMPANY, BLAIRMORE, ALTA.

PUBLISH FIVE PAPERS

Will Make Two Papers at Coleman and One Each at Blairmore, Frank and Cowley—Will be One of Most Important Publishing Concerns in Alberta.

It will be on a somewhat smaller scale of course but in arrangements just consummated by the Foothills Job Print & News company in which J. D. S. Barrett and T. B. Brandon are the moving spirits and the owners of the great majority of the stock, The Pass is to have its Lord Northcliffes in the local newspaper field as the arrangements referred to contemplate the publication by the Foothills company of five newspapers in this field.

Messrs. Barrett and Brandon, alive to their opportunities and appreciating the possibilities of centralization with respect to business enterprises, have for some time been formulating plans to control the printing and publishing business of the district. To that end they have within the past two weeks started the publication of The Chronicle at Cowley, from this issue they take over The Frank Paper and within a few days they will begin the publication at Blairmore of The Enterprise and at Coleman, in addition to The Miner, will publish The Gazette which is to be published in the Slave and Polish languages.

With this combination the Foothills company will be able to cover the newspaper field of the district most admirably and efficiently.
Each paper will be a distinct local enterprise of the town it represents while the centralization of the whole under one head will make possible that economy of expense by which alone there could be hope of success for a paper in each town of the district.

Messrs. Barrett and Brandon are capable and energetic newspaper men and if their enterprise is appreciated by the people of the district and the right sort of support accorded, their labors will not only be crowned with success but they will be able to give each of the towns represented in their circuit of papers, a better paper than would be possible under individual ownership.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

With this issue The Frank Paper passes to new control, that of the Footbills Job Printing and News company which now publishes the Coleman Miner, the Cowley Chronicle and which within the space of a few days will publish five papers in this field as it is the purpose of the company to establish a paper at Blairmore at once to be known as The Enterprise and another paper at Coleman, The Gazette, which will be published in the Slavonian and Polish languages. The Footbills company will continue to publish The Frank Paper and conduct the printing business carried on under that name, in Frank with no material change in the conduct of the business except in the line of betterments. In that respect there may be expected to be a marked improvement and the extent of such improvements will depend upon the people of Frank as a whole but particularly upon the business men as they will be measured by the volume of business the community affords. As soon as the business side of the enterprise warrants, the paper will be increased to eight pages. The present publisher earnestly hopes the business community will appreciate the value to their town of such a consummation by extending the necessary support, enable the new publishers to realize their plans of enlargement at the earliest possible date.

The present publisher who was one of the founders of the paper, has conducted the business for something over four years. During that time he has conscientiously endeavored to fill the requirements of the town in respect to a local paper and hopes the verdict of the readers of the paper will be that he has succeeded in at least reasonable measure in meeting those requirements. While he has endeavored, as said, to be conscientious in his efforts, he is conscious of the fact that through having had too many irons in the fire during the past year, the paper has been permitted to deteriorate in some respects from the standard sought to be maintained therefore. It will be the business of the new publishers to remedy those defects and as the making of newspapers without interference there with by side issues is the business of the new publishers, such shortcomings as have been permitted to creep in may be expected to be speedily eradicated and betterments and improvements all along the line may be looked for in the ratio that encouragement and support entitles the community to expect.

Notwithstanding that the past business of the new publishers has been established at Coleman for some time, the fact will in no manner affect The Frank Paper and the printing business associated with it as a home industry. The paper will continue to stand for Frank and its right to clientele in the district with the same fidelity to local interests as in the past, the same as will the other publications of the company and will therefore be entitled to the exercise of a full measure of local patriotism in the matter of support, the consolidation of the various businesses being merely in line with the spirit of the times in connection with other lines of industry whereby centralization of authority conduces to the saving of expense and the production of better results.

It is therefore with a feeling of gratification that the present publisher relinquishes The Frank Paper to the Footbills Job Printing and News company, knowing it will be in the hands of capable and energetic newspaper men who have the ability and are in a position to give Frank as good a newspaper as any town in the country is able to boast of. To the people of Frank we would say, boost them by giving them your subscriptions, your advertising and job printing and they will boost your town and you will find them loyal, good fellows into the bargain. It is up to you.

POSITION OF NEWSPAPER MAN.
In a very excellent address at the press convention in Edmonton, Hon. Frank Oliver placed the position of the ordinary newspaper men pretty fairly before his hearers.

"Why do men go into the newspaper work?" asked Mr. Oliver. "It certainly is not for the money there is in it. I suppose it is because they want to do the world some good and mould public opinion. I would not run a paper if I were not free to dictate the policy of it and not tied by any section or element of the community. It is this freedom to express his own views which should make the work a lure to the man with newspaper ambitions. Then after all, if the editor is not too busy inciting public opinion but gives some attention to the financial end of his paper he will get a living and if a little thought be given it will be seen that he will be just as well off as the great majority of people in other callings. It is the exceptional man, like Lord Northcliffe, who makes his business a great success and the newspaper man with the social standing which his paper should give him, will fare just as well as the other individuals in the community in which he lives."—The Albertan.

ADOPT NEW SYSTEM OF GRANTING LIQUOR LICENSES

The government has decided to adopt a new system of dealing with the granting of liquor licenses. By the present boards of license commissioners are done away with and all licenses are dealt with by a central board. Concerning the subject a news dispatch from Edmonton says: By an order in council of the Alberta government an innovation has been made in the method by which liquor licenses are to be granted in the province. Hitherto there have been twelve boards of license commissioners with jurisdiction over the same number of districts. These boards are now to be superseded by a central license board composed of three commissioners, who will adjudicate on applicants for liquor licenses throughout the province. The commissioners who will undertake the work are Dr. O. F. Strong, dentist, Edmonton; David C. Bayne, general merchant, Bankhead; and Ald. Thomas McKercher, a lumber dealer and merchant of Olds. It is understood that these three commissioners will discontinue their present occupations, and will devote their whole time to their new duties.

The board of license commissioners in the province will have the power to direct the regulation of the liquor laws in the province, much the same as the railway commissioners have in railway matters in the dominion. It will be the duty of the board to deal with all questions regarding the license system of controlling the liquor traffic. It is not known as yet who the chairman of the board, of license commissioners will be nor when the first meeting will be held.

BAD ROAD, FATAL ACCIDENT.

Another fatal accident due to bad roads occurred near Burnis Thursday evening last in which Mrs. P. Backus lost her life. Mr. and Mrs. Backus, who formerly lived in Frank but who have been ranching south of Lethbridge the past few years, were returning to the ranch from Frank with a load of lumber. In the darkness, as a dangerous spot in the road, the wagon ran off a cut bank and tipped over. Mrs. Backus was pinned beneath the load and killed. A hired man who accompanied them had a leg broken and Mr. Backus was badly injured.

The prize fight Monday evening at School hall between Jim Burrows of Hillcrest and the "Cyclone Kid," announced as being for the middle weight championship of Canada, proved a very one sided affair. The "Kid" did not show much championship form and only justified his terrifying title by the amount of punishment he was able to take. Burrows simply mauled him until he was sick of it himself but did not seem able to put the "Kid" out and he stood the terrible grueling for six rounds when the police like the rest of the crowd sick of the brutality, stopped the fight. There was a big crowd.
